BATTLE OF MURĀISĪ‘

Today you will learn about a wife of the Holy Prophet Muhammad<sup>sa</sup>, Ummul-Mu‘minīn, Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup>. Before that, let us tell you what Madīnah was like when Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> got married to the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup>. This will help introduce Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> to you. You are already aware that after the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> had been treated with utmost cruelty and injustice for thirteen years at the hands of Makkans, he was granted permission by Allah the Almighty to leave Makkah and migrate to Madīnah.

The people of Madīnah gave the Holy Prophet Muhammad<sup>sa</sup> a warm welcome. The Muslims were very happy to have him there, but there were some people in Madīnah and in the surrounding areas that were against the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup>. The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> adopted peaceful ways to live in harmony with every tribe in Madīnah. Amongst these tribes were some that acted peacefully on the outside, but inwardly were against Islam. About ninety-six miles outside of Madīnah, there was a very famous well called the Muraisī'. A tribe by the name of Banū Muṣṭalaq was living near that well. The name of their chief was Ḥārith bin Abī Ḍarrār. This man hated Muslims with a passion. He was filled with a burning fury against Muslims. He would often say that they would eliminate the problem (i.e. the Muslims) that the Makkans could not remove and that the people of Madīnah could not solve. He said the Quraish of Makkah would help them in this effort as well; and that they should arm themselves with weapons and gather at Muraisī'. Ḥārith bin Abī Ḍarrār said that they would fight fiercely and would not rest until they had destroyed the Muslims. Musāfi' bin Ṣafwan, the husband of Ḥārith's daughter Barrah, was also with him. He was filled by the uncontrollable urge to make war. The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> became aware that preparations for a war against the Muslims were underway. It was a habit of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> that he did not believe any rumours. So, he sent Buraidah bin Ḥaṣīb Aslamī<sup>ra</sup> to confirm the news. When he returned, he told the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> about the situation. Upon hearing this report the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> ordered the companions to prepare to fight.<sup>1</sup>

The Muslim army marched out of Madīnah in the month of Sha'bān, 5th Hijrī. When Ḥārith bin Abī Ḍarrār heard about the Muslim army, he became very scared and fled the scene, and the men in his army also scattered. The people of Muraisī' fought the Muslims but were soon defeated. The Muslims were victorious. Eleven men of the enemy army were killed, and six hundred were made prisoners. Ḥārith's son-in-law, Musāfi' was among those that were killed.

A BLESSED MARRIAGE

After the battle the Muslims took a large amount of spoils of war. Spoils of war refer to what is left behind by the opposing army after either fleeing the battle or suffering a defeat at the hands of an army. The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> used to distribute the spoils amongst those who fought in the Muslim army. Among the prisoners of war was Hārith's daughter Barrah. During this distribution Barrah bint Hārith was handed over to Ḥaḍrat Thābit bin Qais bin Shamās<sup>ra</sup>. Barrah was the daughter of a chief. She did not like being a prisoner of war. There was a practice in Islam where a prisoner of war can gain freedom by offering to pay a ransom with the agreement of his/her caretaker. It is called Mukātabat. Barrah asked Ḥaḍrat Thābit<sup>ra</sup> to enter into a Mukātabat agreement with her. Ḥaḍrat Thābit<sup>ra</sup> agreed to enter into this agreement and the ransom was decided to be nine Auqiyah (a measurement to specify the weight of gold).<sup>2</sup>

Barrah had settled the Mukātabat, but she did not actually have the gold in her possession, because she had been forced to leave her home empty handed. She had heard that the Prophet<sup>sa</sup> of the Muslims was a very kind-hearted man, and thought she could ask for either a loan or assistance from him. The next day she appeared before him and appealed for help:

“O Messenger<sup>sa</sup> of Allah, I am the daughter of the chief Ḥārith bin Abī Ḍarrār. You are well aware of the misfortune that has fallen upon me. I have settled into an agreement with my master for nine Auqiyah. My request is that you please help me with the payment of this amount.”<sup>3</sup>

She made this plea with such dignity and eloquence that Allah the Almighty put in the heart of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> to offer her marriage, which could lead to the elimination of all the animosity between Muslims and her tribe, and create opportunities for the spread of Islam.

The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> responded, “I have a better solution. If you are willing to accept.”

Barrah said, “Please speak.”

The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> said, “I will pay the amount on your behalf, and marry you.”

She agreed immediately and this blessed marriage took place. At the time of the marriage, Ḥadrāt Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> was twenty years old.<sup>4</sup>

The marriage took place in the year 627. After the wedding, the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> gave her the name Juwairiyah.<sup>5</sup>

BONDS OF KINSHIP

Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> was very beautiful. Ḥaḍrat ‘Ā’ishah<sup>ra</sup> described her as someone who possessed sweet speech, graceful physical features, charm and beauty. She fascinated everyone who saw her.<sup>6</sup>

When the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> married this brave and intelligent girl belonging to the Banū Muṣṭalaq, all the members of that tribe became his kinsmen. Because of this the Muslims felt it was not right for them to keep the kinsmen of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> as prisoners. Thus, all the people who were made prisoners during the battle of Muraisī’ were freed, without any ransom. When all these prisoners returned to their homes, every household started talking about the Founder of Islam<sup>sa</sup> and his teachings, and many people began accepting Islam.

The incident that led the family of Ḥadṣrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> to accept Islam is an interesting one. When her father found out that his beloved daughter was among the prisoners of war, he set out towards Madīnah. He took with him some belongings that included camels, in order to pay the ransom and free his daughter. During the journey he felt unwilling to give up two of his prized camels. So, he hid those two camels in the valley of ‘Aqīq. When he finally met the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> he said:

The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> responded:

“Where are the two camels that you have hidden in the valley of ‘Aqīq?”

Allah the Almighty had shown this entire incident to the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> in a vision. Ḥārith was dumbfounded when he heard this, and he realized that this man could not be a liar. He recited the Kalimah openly and became a Muslim. His two sons, ‘Abdullāh and ‘Amr, also became Muslims.<sup>7</sup> The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> summoned Ḥadṣrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup>. Ḥārith said to the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> that I am the chief of my tribe and my daughter cannot live like a prisoner. However, when he learned that she was not going to be a prisoner, but rather the wife of Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup>, he became very happy. The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> left it up to Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> to choose where she wanted to live.

Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> responded, “I would like to live with the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup>.”<sup>8</sup>

Do you see what a great change came into the life of Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup>? She was the daughter of an enemy of Islam, and the wife of another enemy of Islam. Her father was defeated; her husband was killed; and she was widowed. She was made a prisoner. Yet as soon as she came into contact with the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup>, she received the gift of Islam, which led to the freedom of so many prisoners. Her father and brothers became Muslims as well. Hence, blessings were showered upon them with this marriage.

Ḥaḍrat ‘Ā’ishah<sup>ra</sup> says, “I have never seen a woman prove to be so blessed for her people as Juwairiyah. Because of her, many families of the Banū Muṣṭalaq were made free.”<sup>9</sup>

While remembering the days of her wedding, Ḥaḍrat

Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> relates, “I saw a dream three nights before the arrival of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> that the moon, travelling from Yathrib (Madīnah), has fallen into my lap. I did not wish to tell anyone about this dream. When I was captured, I hoped for the fulfilment of this dream. Then, the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> granted me freedom and married me. I was twenty-years-old at that time.”<sup>10</sup>

A SIMPLE LIFE

There are many books written about the life of the Holy Prophet Muhammad<sup>sa</sup> and his blessed wives. The authors of these books have organised the chronology of events according to their own understanding. After studying these books, we have put together a summary for you, which will give you a good idea of the actual events. There may be a few differences in the chronology. For example, some have written that the marriage of Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> and the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> took place before the arrival of her father in Madīnah, and others have written that her father married her to the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> after he arrived in Madīnah. Although there is some uncertainty about the exact sequence of events, the fact is that she was a free woman at the time of her marriage and entered into this blessed bond willingly. Now we will look at what married life was like for the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> and Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup>.

Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> was the daughter of her tribe's chief. The rich Arabs lived a life of luxury and privilege. However, life in the household of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> was simple to an extreme degree. The way of life, the clothing, the food, and everything else was very humble. The homes of the wives were made of mud bricks, twigs and leaves of date trees. The entrances usually had curtains hanging from them and there were no doors. The ceiling was so low that you could touch it if you raised your hand. There were no lamps. The house of Ḥaḍrat 'Ā'ishah<sup>ra</sup> had an upper level as well. Small courtyards were attached to these homes. These homes were large enough that guests could stay there and their needs could be satisfied. Some of these homes also housed cattle. This was the simplicity of these homes.

The items within the homes were also very simple. Generally the mattresses were made of leather and stuffed with grass. Pillows were also stuffed with either grass or the leaves of a date tree. Besides these things there was very little else. The wives of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> also made do with just one outfit.

Ḥaḍrat ‘Ā’ishah<sup>ra</sup> once revealed that each of the wives did not own more than one outfit.<sup>11</sup>

The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> had very simple eating habits. His wives also adopted similar habits and lived patiently and gratefully. Ḥaḍrat ‘Ā’ishah<sup>ra</sup> has narrated, “We often did not even light the stove for several days. We only ate dates and drank water. Due to our humble circumstances, the members of the household of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> were not able to eat bread for more than three days in a row.”

Ḥaḍrat Bilāl<sup>ra</sup> was given the duty of managing the financial matters of the household. Whatever was received through gifts and spoils of war, went under his supervision. He also took care of distributing charity amongst the poor. If the need arose, he would ask for a loan. After the victory of Khaibar, the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> started giving his wives twenty kilograms of barley to last for a month, and a maund of dates (which is equivalent to approximately thirty seven kilograms) to last for a whole year. These were also used to take care of the guests and to give to charity.<sup>12</sup>

During these hard times, the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> once said to his wives, in accordance with a revelation from Allah the Almighty:

“If you wish for all the luxuries of life then come and let me give you all the material things of the world. However, if you choose this you cannot remain my wives. I will bid you farewell with generosity and kindness. But, if you value God and His Messenger, and want rewards in the Hereafter, then listen! Those righteous ones among you who put God’s pleasure before all else will be the recipients of great rewards from Him.”<sup>13</sup>

None of his wives chose to take up the wealth of the world and separate from the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup>. But were not all the bounties of both worlds created for the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup>? Then why did he prefer to lead such a simple life? It was because his only ambition in life was to please Allah the Almighty. The purpose in life of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> was not to enjoy the riches of the world. The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> said, “My God gave me the chance to have the whole valley of Makkah filled with gold. I said, ‘O my Lord, I am happy to eat one day and remain hungry the next. When I am hungry, I can supplicate to you and busy myself in your remembrance; and when I am full, I can praise you and be grateful to you.’”<sup>14</sup>

May millions and millions of peace and blessings be upon this beloved Prophet<sup>sa</sup> of ours, who rejected the opportunity to gain all the riches of the world, and instead gave preference to faith. Moreover the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> counseled his wives so well that they became shining examples for every woman amongst his followers. No poor, less fortunate man or woman can say that the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> did not understand the trials they face, or that he lived in luxury.

HER PIOUS NATURE

Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> had great eagerness in her heart to please Allah the Almighty and His Messenger, the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup>. She spent most of her time in worshipping Allah. She had reserved a special corner in her house specifically for worship.

One day, the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> came to her house. It was daytime and she was busy in worship. When the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> passed by her house later in the afternoon, he saw her still sitting on the prayer rug and busy in worship. The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> inquired, “Have you been sitting like this all this time? Do you always worship like this?” She replied, “Of course, Messenger

When she found out that Allah the Almighty likes it when His servants fast, she started fasting a lot. One Friday, the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> came to her house and found out that she was fasting. He asked, “Juwairiyah, did you fast yesterday as well?” She replied, “No.” He asked, “Will you fast tomorrow then?” She replied, “No.” Upon that the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> said, “Then you should break the fast.”<sup>15</sup> The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> did not like fasting only on Fridays.<sup>16</sup>

The wives of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> used to listen to his teachings very carefully and then obey them strictly. They observed his actions, and then advised others while citing him as an example. This way the sayings and actions of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> have been preserved in a way that can be claimed as one hundred percent accurate. Even the relatives of his wives were involved in these observations. Because of it, we find so many Aḥādīth that explain the teachings of Islam very clearly. For example, we will present here a Ḥadīth narrated by Ḥaḍrat ‘Amr bin Ḥārith<sup>ra</sup>, the brother of Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup>.

He narrates:

“The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> did not leave a single Dirham, Dīnār, slave, or a slave-woman behind at the time of his death.”<sup>17</sup>

This shows that not only did the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> teach others to free the slaves, but he also set examples for them to follow through his actions. At the time he left this world he possessed no worldly wealth. He searched for heavenly wealth all his life, and only took that with him to the Hereafter.

CHARITY

Once the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> came to Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> and asked, “Is there anything to eat?” She replied, “O Messenger of Allah<sup>sa</sup>, my maidservant received some meat as charity and has given it to me as a gift. That is all I have.”

He responded, “Then bring it. The charity has reached its intended recipient.”<sup>18</sup>

Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> remembered this incident and narrated it later. This is a great favour she bestowed upon the Muslims, because this narration makes an issue very clear. The Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> had forbidden his family members from eating anything that was charity.

Once the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> received a basket of dates that was to be donated to charity. His little grandson, Hasan, saw the dates and he put one in his mouth. When the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> saw him doing that, he put his finger in the child's mouth and took out the date, then threw it away. Then he explained to the child that the date was intended for charity, and it was not lawful for him to eat it.

These two incidents appear to contradict each other, but if you pay close attention to them you become amazed at the depth of the wisdom of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup>. It is true that the family of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> was not allowed to accept anything that was charity, however, if a recipient of charity gifted the charity to them, they were permitted to accept it. This is because it became a gift, freely given, not charity. It is a beautiful concept that allows the poor to keep their dignity, and yet it also allows a person who is in difficulty to do what is best for him.

Hadrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> sympathised with the poor immensely. Giving charity and donating to the poor gave her great pleasure. If she ever got a chance to help another person, she considered it to be a blessing from Allah.

PATIENCE IN LOSS

Hāḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> had only six years of her life with her beloved husband. This marriage was like a cool shade for her, filled with peace. It was filled with the joys of love and the companionship of a God-like person. However, that companionship was lost too soon. During the final illness of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup>, she made a sacrifice for that pure person who was the source of the greatest happiness in the world for her. For the sake of the happiness of Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup>, she gave him permission to spend the last few days of his life in the home of Hāḍrat ‘Ā’ishah<sup>ra</sup>. When the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> passed away, it seemed like the whole world had suddenly become dark. Her eyes were wet with tears and there was only one prayer on her lips, “O Lord, I am happy with any circumstance you put me in, just give me the courage to bear it all.”<sup>19</sup>

It was hard to believe that the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> had left this world. It seemed like the world was empty without him. She missed her beloved husband all the time. At times when she missed him a lot, she would leave her house and go to the house of Ḥaḍrat ‘Ā’ishah<sup>ra</sup> where the blessed body of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> had been laid to rest. She would say Salām, sit near his feet, shed tears uncontrollably, and talk about what she was feeling. Then, when she was able to control her emotions, she would get up from there and come back to her own house where she occupied herself in the remembrance of Allah.<sup>20</sup>

The four pious Khulafā’ gave the wives of the Holy Prophet<sup>sa</sup> utmost respect and reverence. Ḥaḍrat ‘Umar<sup>ra</sup> fixed an allowance for her in the amount of six thousand Dirham annually.

Ḥaḍrat Juwairiyah<sup>ra</sup> has narrated seventeen Aḥādīth. She passed away in Rabī’ul-Awwal, 50th Hijrī, at the age of sixty-five and she was buried in Jannatul-Baqī’.<sup>21</sup>

إِنَّا لِلّٰهِ وَإِنَّا إِلَيْهِ رَاجِعُونَ

(Surah Al-Baqarah, Verse 157)

TO ALLAH WE BELONG AND TO HIM SHALL WE RETURN

PUBLISHER'S NOTE

The following abbreviations have been used. Readers are urged to recite the full salutations when reading the book:

sa ṣallallāhu ‘alaihi wa sallam, meaning ‘may peace and blessings of Allah be upon him,’ is written after the name of the Holy Prophet Muhammad<sup>sa</sup>.

as ‘alaihis-salām, meaning ‘may peace be on him,’ is written after the name of Prophets other than the Holy Prophet Muhammad<sup>sa</sup>.

ra radīyallāhu ‘anhu/‘anhā/‘anhum, meaning ‘may Allah be pleased with him/her/them,’ is written after the names of the Companions of the Holy Prophet Muhammad<sup>sa</sup> or of the Promised Messiah<sup>as</sup>.

In transliterating Arabic words we have adopted the following system established by the Royal Asiatic Society.

- ا at the beginning of a word, pronounced as a, i, u preceded by a very slight aspiration, like h in the English word honour.
- ث th, pronounced like th in the English word thing.
- ح ḥ, a guttural aspirate, stronger than h.
- خ kh, pronounced like the Scotch ch in loch.
- ذ dh, pronounced like the English th in that.

ص s, strongly articulated s.

ض d, similar to the English th in this.

ع ' , a strong guttural, the pronunciation of which must be learnt by the ear.

غ gh, a sound approached very nearly in the r grasseye in French, and in the German r. It requires the muscles of the throat to be in the 'gargling' position whilst pronouncing it.

ق q, a deep guttural k sound.

ء ' , a sort of catch in the voice.

Short vowels are represented by:

a for —َ— (like u in bud)

i for —ِ— (like i in bid)

u for —ُ— (like oo in wood)

Other:

au for ۛ— (resembling ou in sound)

The consonants not included in the above list have the same phonetic value as in the principal languages of Europe. While the Arabic ḥ is represented by h, we have indicated the Urdu ḥ as ḥ̣. Curved commas are used in the system of transliteration, ' for ḥ, ' for ḥ̣.

We have not transliterated certain Arabic words which have become part of the English language. The Royal Asiatic Society rules of transliteration for names of persons, places and other terms, could not be followed throughout the book as many of the names contain non-Arabic characters and carry a local transliteration and pronunciation style which in itself is also not consistent either.
